

Community of Conscience Breakfast Speakers

2014: Trinity is a participant in our Teen Parenting Program. She has a three-year-old son. Trinity is graduating from high school this spring (Another Course to College in the Boston Public Schools) and plans to matriculate at UMASS-Boston in the fall to study Economics. She works part-time on the weekend at a café. Trinity is working with Casa Myrna's Housing Specialist and will move into her own affordable home this summer.

2013: Fatou, who lived in our Transitional Living Program, has moved into her own home with her 12-year-old daughter and will soon receive her certification in medical interpretation. She remains focused on becoming an attorney to advocate for survivors.

2012: Ernest, who lived with his mother at our Transitional Living Program, just graduated from Boston's John D. O'Bryant School of Mathematics and Science and will matriculate at Roxbury Community College in the fall.

2011: Nadine, a former community client, is a motivational speaker related to domestic violence and vision loss.

2010: Gabby, who was a Teen Parenting Program participant, lives in her own affordable home with her seven-year-old child, and is studying to be a Certified Nursing Assistant.