See What You've Made Possible

Since 1977, Casa Myrna has supported survivors as they escape domestic violence and recover from the trauma of abuse.

With your help, we've grown from a single shelter for women and children fleeing violence into an organization that serves thousands of survivors and their children annually as they rebuild lives free from abuse. Every spring for the last 15 years, we've honored survivors' strength, resilience, and bravery—and the generosity of friends like you.

Stand With Survivors

Domestic violence thrives in silence and isolation – and community is the cure. Your support is critical as together we strive to support survivors when they need us most. You will enjoy a silent auction, mingling, dancing, a moving story from a survivor, and remarks from our CEO.

Until Every Relationship Is Safe And Healthy

Casa Myrna was founded in 1977 by a diverse group of neighborhood activists in Boston's South End as a safe haven for women who were being abused by their partners. Today, Casa Myrna is Boston's largest provider of shelter and support for survivors of domestic and dating violence and outreach efforts to prevent abuse. We serve all survivors on every step of their journey to a life free from abuse. Casa Myrna provides residential shelter and a comprehensive range of supports – ranging from legal to housing, counseling to economic stability – that help our participants recover from the trauma of abuse and build safe, stable, and independent futures for themselves and their children.

2024 By The Numbers

As a result of the generous contributions we've received over the past year, Casa Myrna has been able to support:

82
survivors

received trauma-informed support from our counselors.

300
